THE HAND OF DEATH.

Ex-Secretary of War Belknap Suddenly Summoned.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS APARTMENTS.

The Coroner's Inquest Shows That the Immediate Cause of His Death Was Inflamation of the Heart—A Short Sketch of His Career—Justice Miller Still Unconscious and His Death Momentarily Expected.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 13.—Gen. William W. Belknap, ex-secretary of war, was found dead in bed Monday morning in his room in the Evans building on New York avenue, in this city. The room in which he was found joined his office rooms, and was only occupied by the general during his wife's absence from the city. Gen. Belknap was last seen alive Saturday night about midnight when he was on his way to his rooms, apparently in excellent health. Mrs. Belknap, who is in New York city, was notified of her husband's sudden death. The coroner's inquest showed that the general suffered from fatty degeneration of the heart and that the immediate cause of his death was inflamation of the heart.

A Sketch of His Life.

Gen William Worth Belknap was born in Newburg, N. Y., in Sept. 1829. He graduated at Princeton college in 1843 and 1851 he removed to Krokuk, Iowa, where he practiced law. Gen. Belknap served through the war, beginning his service as major of an Iowa regiment and at the close was breveted general. In October, 1869, he was appointed secretary of war. This office he retained during Gen. Grant's second administration until March, 1876, when in consequence of charges of official corruption he resigned. He was impeached and tried before the senate for receiving bribes for the appointment of post traders and was acquitted on the technical ground of want of jurisdiction.

Respect to His Memory.

The news of the sudded death of ex-Secretary Belknap was received at the were department with genuine sorrow. Gen Belknap was a very popular official when he was at the head of the war department. The usual marks of respect was paid to his memory by the war department. The department will be closed on the day of his funeral. It will also be draped in mourning for thirty days. Acting Secretary of War Grant will issue the official order as soon as the funeral arrangements are perfected.

THE END IS NOT YET.

But Little Change in the Condition of Justice Miller.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct 13.—Justice Miller's family and a number of friends were anxious watchers at his bedside all through the night, expecting that the end might come at any moment. But little change in the sick man's condition was noted during the night. His sturdy constitution seemed to continue the unequal struggle against death long beyond the time it was thought possible for him to survive the fatal stroke.

In an Unconscious Condition.

Monday morning his breathing was so rapid and difficult that his death was momentarily expected. His face showed plainly the well known marks of paralysis, being out of natural shape and discolored by the diffusion of blood. Unconscious, and propped up in bed, with the organs of respiration filling with phlegm, it was felt that his vitality could not much longer resist the strain and that the end must come soon.

At 4 p. m. Monday Justice Miller was still alive.

The Supreme Court Adjourns.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 1.—The October term of the United States supreme court opened Monday. The court met at noon, but owing to the critical condition of Associate Justice Miller, at once adjourned.

DRINK WAS HER RUIN.

Suicide of a New York Woman at Newport, R. I.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct 13.—Sunday afternoon at the foot of the forty steps on the cliff, a well dressed woman was found under the influence of liquor. She was taken to the police station and was released at night. She declined to give her name on account of her husband. Chief of Police Turner took her to St. Mary's rectory, where she signed the pledge. She begged everybody to keep the matter private for her husband and children's sake. No one seemed to know her. She claimed that the reason she went to the cliffs was because her husband refused to let her into her own house. Monday morning the lifeless remains of the woman were found near the spot where she was discovered Sunday. Her head and knee were badly cut and it is supposed that she threw herself from the embankment while in a despondent mood. She proved to be the wife of Walter Bussey, a well known New York caterer. She was only 28 years of age. Her husband was made acquainted with the sad details at noon.

VERDICT FOR THE DEFENDANT.

A Peculiar Case and Peculiar Defense at Columbus, Kan.

COLUMBUS, Kan., Oct. 13.—A peculiar case with a peculiar defense came before the court in this city. James Wilson was arrested for breaking into a saloon and stealing a quantity of beer and whisky. He was caught in the act and placed in jail. The grand jury found an indictment for burglary and he was placed on trial. The case was fully proved by the prosecution and the act was not denied, but the defense set up the plea that as the selling or keeping of spirituous liquors was contrary to law and was a crime the act of taking the goods was no crime. The jury deliberated only half an hour when it returned a verdict for the defendant and he was released. He was immediately rearrested on the charge of stealing the bottles which contained the liquor. As the stealing was virtually admitted in the first case he will in all probability be held for the grand jury.

The Engineer Killed.

PRINCETON, Ky., Oct. 13.—The through freight that passed here at 9 o'clock Sunday morning was wrecked near St. Charles, a station eighteen miles east of here, and the engineer, John Nickels, killed. The accident was caused by leaving a section car loaded with rails on the track. The section boss thought that the train had passed, as it was overdue.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

An Unwelcome Interruption to an Affectionate Interview.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—There was quite a scene behind the curtain during the performance of "Carmen" Saturday at the Holiday Street theatre. One of the cast is a young man whose stage name is Kingsley, but who is the son of Signor Broccolini, baritone. Kingsley was unfortunate enough, it is said, to have fallen in love with Corinne, and the pair were quite smitten with each other. Mrs. Jennie Kimball, the mother of the petite Corinne, happened to catch Kingsley and Corinne fondly hugging and kissing each other

It Was Great Fun, No Doubt.

She asked Kingsley why he was embracing her daughter, and the young actor, for want of a better reason, replied that he was doing it "for fun." That kind of "fun" did not suit Mrs. Kimball. Several members of the company assert that she squared off and struck the lovesick swain in the face with her clinched hand, and added injury to insult by at once discharging him from the company. Mrs. Kimball gives a somewhat different version of the trouble. She says she discharged him because of a boast that he would make love to and marry Corinne.

HE MARRIED "BENEATH" HIM.

But "He" Is a Swindler and She Only Destitute.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 13.—Mrs. Thomas J. Sefton applied to Attorney Wallace, of this city, Saturday, for assistance in soliciting aid from her father-in-law, who she claims is one of the delegates to the iron and steel institute from Great Britain. Her husband is now serving a year's sentence in the county workhouse for alleged swindling in connection with the National Capital Savings Building and Loan association

Cast Off By the Old Man.

The woman is in destitute circumstances, and was unable to find her alleged father-in-law, who, she says, cast off her husband at the time of their marriage, saying that she was "poor, uneducated, and not fit to be the wife of his son." The secretary of the institute acknowledged the correctness of the woman's story except as to the name The latter he would not divulge.

Through these a number of them jumped to the street. Five of the women employed by the firm were killed in trying to effect an escape in this manner.

OTHER FOREIGN ITEMS.

The Court at Tipperary.

TIPPERARY, Oct. 13.—On the opening of the court Monday morning medical evidence was submitted corroborative of the statement made on Saturday by Dr. Conway, one of Mr. O'Mahony's physicians, to the effect that his client's condition was such as to make his daily attendance in court dangerous. Mr. Ronan, of counsel for the crown, then questioned the witness so closely and with so much sharpness that the defense denounced his conduct as barbarous. After a sustained discussion between counsel, the court adjourned until Tuesday, by which time Mr. Ronan said he would be able to suggest a course whereby the cases might be proceeded with despite the illness of Mr. O'Mahony.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 13—The increased tax levied by the government on native opium has aroused much opposition, and the attempt to collect the impost has led to rioting in different parts of the country. At Hoihow many persons, while engaged in one of these riots, were killed. In Lianghu the viceroy refuses to permit the collection of the tax within his jurisdiction.

Will Make Herself Unpopular.

NOW IT'S THE CAKE-WALK.

The Fashionable Fad of the Winter Season in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The cake-walk is to be the fashionable fad of the season of '90-91. Society is completely revolutionized, "season and scene unchanged remain," but the cotillion has gone and is universally condemned. To Mrs. Samuel J. Colgate, of 4 West Sixteenth street, belongs the honor of the first great cake-walk of the 400. It was the crowning feature of the recent ball at her country seat in New Hamburg, N. Y. At present it is arranged to begin with a dance called "Cake-Walk," which gradually merges into a veritable promenade in which the southern negro delights. Mrs. Colgate's beauty is acknowledged by all, and she never looked handsomer than when she headed the cake-walk to the tune of "Dixie." It was a tremendous hit.

The Code of Proceedure.

Ward McAllister will be home by Tuesday, at least one week earlier than usual, to afford himself the necessary time to arrange a code of procedure for walkers. Arm swinging is out of the question in the code. Heads up are correct, and as the couples walk more than two feet apart from each other glancing back is strictly prohibited, as it causes great confusion. Eyes must seek vacancy directly in front of them. Laughter, giggling, and smiling are prohibited. Three quarters of an hour is about the proper duration of the walk. The leader, after going around one of the large halls in which walks are given for some time, diverges suddenly and goes straight across or zigzag fashion. Cotillion leaders are not as averse to the contemplated change as would be supposed

A SENSATION RECALLED.

Death of the Man Who Eloped with an Earl's Daughter.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Thomas P. Murphy died at the Carney hospital Sunday. It was his elopement with Lady Blanche Elizabeth Mary Annunciata, daughter of the Earl of Gainsborough, in the year 1870 that first brought his name into prominence and made him the hero in a tragedy in real life. Lady Blanche was brought up in the luxury belonging to one of England's proudest peers, but she forsook wealth, station and home for love, and died in exile and poverty in a strange land. Young Murphy was organist in the private chapel of the Earl of Gainsborough and was entirely dependent upon his slender income from that source. He was handsome and accomplished and easily won Lady Blanche's love while instructing her in music.

Would Not Forgive His Daughter.

The eloping couple were secretly married, then asked forgiveness, but the earl would not look upon his daughter's face until he saw her in her coffin after twelve years' suffering and hardship. He had disinherited her and repented when too late. Young Murphy took his bride to London, but soon came to America. They could not live in England, for the story of their elopement was in everybody's mouth. They landed in New York poor, proud and friendless. They tried one thing and another. The husband essayed to teach and the wife sought to add to their scanty income by writing.

He Crawls Along with a Broken Leg to Flag a Train.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Oct. 13.—Saturday night engine No. 69 on the Chicago and Erie, Edward Murphy, engineer, and George Kirby, fireman, was ordered to West Point, near this city, to bring in a freight train whose engine had been disabled. When in a long cut two miles west of the city the engine exploded, blowing out all the front end, tearing out the bottom and twisting the machinery generally Notwithstanding the explosion the engine kept the rails and run 200 feet before stopping. The fireman and engineer jumped. The engineer's leg was broken and he was badly scalded, while the fireman was cut about the head and face and is scalded so badly that recovery is doubtful. The noise of the explosion drew quite a number of people living in the neighborhood to the scene of the disaster. They found the engineer, lantern in hand, dragging his broken leg in order to stop passenger train No. 8, which was then about due. He handed his lantern to one of the men who found him and sent him to stop the train, thus preventing a bad accident.

Suicide of a Club-Man.

The fact that a gold watch and some money were found in the pockets of the dead man prove that no robbery had occurred, and that without doubt the case was one of suicide.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 13.—The president's trip from St Louis was uneventful. The chief executive rose about an hour after the train reached Indianapolis, and about 7 o'clock Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McKee put in an appearance and were warmly greeted Beyond these and the reporters there was no one to welcome the distinguished guest—this having been his earnest request. As soon as the reporters were admitted to the car the president inquired for news from Justice Miller, and seemed greatly relieved when the information that he still lived was imparted to him. Shortly after the party debarked from the train, the president going to the home of his son-in-law, Mr. McKee. After breakfasting the president drove to his old church, the First Presbyterian, and occupied his pew with Secretary Tracy and Mr. and Mrs. McKee. The church was crowded, both because of the president's visit and because of the baptism and admission to the church of a class of young people.

A Drive About the City.

At the conclusion of the sermon holy communion was received by the congregation, in which President Harrison participated. At the conclusion of the services the president stood for a time in front of the church exchanging greetings with many old friends, who crowded about him to grasp his hand and renew pleasant acquaintanceship. Then the party was driven to the hotel for dinner. After dinner the president repaired to parlor 12, where his hand was shaken by a large number of people. Ex-Senator Joseph E McDonald called about 3 o'clock and took Secretary Tracy for a drive about the city. President Harrison and Mrs. McKee followed soon after. After a short drive supper was taken at the McKee residence, which was then thrown open and until 9:30 o'clock was thronged with visitors who called informally on President Harrison. At 10 o'clock the presidential party was driven to the car, and shortly afterward retired for the night. The start for Washington was made at 6 o'clock Monday morning.

At Anderson and Muncie.

The train reached Anderson at 7:10. A large crowd was in waiting at the station. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—The commander of the Sons of Veterans, Lieut. Col. E. W. Raymond, received a telegram Saturday from the commander of this state, Col. H. J. Kline, of St. Joseph, saying that he would suspend all officers who participated in the Harrison reception here. Col. Kline claims the presidential trip is political, and that, therefore, the Sons of Veterans can not participate in it. Notwithstanding this order the Sons of Veterans turned out in force Saturday morning to welcome the president

THE SOUTH CAROLINA FIGHT.

It Begins in a Manner That Indicates That It Will Be Hot.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 13.—Friday night in the town of Kershaw Judge Haskell, the nominee against Tillman, was burnt in effigy. The demonstration was participated in by a large number of citizens. Red-hot speeches were made against the movement, and Haskell was denounced. In Williamsburg county Friday, at the home of Edward Harper, the nominee for secretary of state on the Haskell ticket, a meeting of the executive committee was held. Mr. Harper, together with other leaders of the movement, was denounced Independentism was worse than radicalism, and these so-called Democrats had stolen "the livery of heaven to serve the devil in"

One Paper for Haskell.

In the meantime Judge Haskell is directing the fight, and reports come from Spartanburg, Oconee, Union, and other counties that he is gaining friends hourly. The Columbia Daily Record, having the largest circulation in this city, came over to Haskell Saturday, and enjoys the distinction of being the only paper in the state on that side. In a day or two it is probable that the Republican state executive committee will hold a meeting and indorse the nomination.

Schilling Endorses the Bennett Law.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 13.—Robert Schilling, the Labor party's nominee for congress in the Milwaukee district, in an address before the Literal league strongly indorsed the Bennett law. Confessed His Crime.

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 13.—Anderson Harris, the negro who assassinated Mayor G. M. Lewis at Clinton, Friday night, is in jail here and Sunday made a confession. He now says that he alone did the shooting. The motive for killing Lewis, he says, was to prevent his further interference with the divorce proceedings he has instituted against his wife. Lewis was looking after the interests of Harris' wife.

Averted a Panic.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 13.—Trouble with the electric connection of the organ at St. James' cathedral Sunday night caused the instrument to stop short in the middle of a hymn when the service was about half over. The paraffine coating of a cable had caught fire, and the congregation had to be dismissed. This was done very quietly, and a panic was avoided. Little damage was done.

STRONGEST TICKET.

MADE BY THE DEMOCRATS OF THE TWENTY-NINTH DISTRICT.

Crowds of Democrats in Town—Convention at Council Chamber—Caucuses and Executive Sessions—Herman Manecke Our Next Senator—Wash Smith and L B Stringer the Coming Representatives—Speeches by the Delegates—A Resolution.

There were enough democrats in town yesterday to make this township unanimous for reform They came in on trains, in buggies and wagons The street cars were loaded down with them, and those who could not find room to ride were willing to walk The Executive Committee of the State Central Committee was also here. While everybody was in town it was thought a good time to nominate a winning ticket. The Council Chambers were secured as the meeting place of the delegates to the Senatorial Convention of the Twenty-ninth Senatorial District.

The delegates from Logan county came in some time in the morning. They at once went to the St. Nick and talked over the situation, as it presented itself to them The Macon delegates were moving about busily, and the talk on every side was a search for the best and strongest men This was the talk and spirit at every stage of the convention. It was the business of every delegate to find out who would be the strongest men, and the result showed that each delegate attended to his business. A ticket was nominated that should carry the District with a rush.

John R. Miller, of Decatur, called the convention to order a short time before the noon hour arrived Colonel Ed Lynch, of Lincoln, was named for temporary chairman Mr Lynch made a short talk to the delegates upon taking his place. He said. "I trust that no delegate to-day will let his personal preferences stand in the way of the success of the democratic ticket in this district. You are all aware that this is one of the close districts of the state Upon your vote here will probably depend the question whether this state shall be represented in the United States Senate by that grand man, John M Palmer, or by some unknown whom some people call C. B Farwell. This is no time to think of personal preferences. Suppose the next Assembly is republican by one vote, and that vote comes from the Twenty ninth, what will our people be able to say for themselves? To-day I would vote in this convention for an enemy who could poll ten more votes than a personal friend of mine. Here every one must remember that it is his duty to assist in presenting a ticket that can and will win in this Senatorial District.

E F. L. Rautenberg and Charles Barnett were selected as temporary secretaries William H. Traner and Richard Templeman, of Logan, were appointed with J. L Peake, John Johnson and R. T. Williams, of Macon. a committee on credentials. This committee reported the following delegates entitled to seats in the convention. From Logan County—N P. Gasaway, H. H. Staggers, R. H. Templeman, E F L. Rautenberg, Ed Lynch, T. T. Beach, Simon Rock, J. M. Allison, Noah Allison, A. C Scroggin, William Rupp, J C. Wilson, M T. Vaughn, W. H Traner, John Tyler, George H. Warren, Charles Tyler, John Colvin. From Macon county — Reuben Brownlee, M. C. Purdy, A. G Webber, C M. Barnett, John Fletcher, Jas. L. Peake, W. H Linn, E. M. Bragg, L. P. Graham, Robt. Kincaid, James Hughes, John Johnson, C. H. Jennings, M. Y. Griffin, Samuel P. Davis, J. C. McMillin, F. B. Ritchie, David Myers, J. J. Atterbury, D. W. Craig, Aaron Moon, E. B. Bromley, R. T. Williams, John Wacker, H I. Cattan, N. A Carr, Thomas Fountain, James Babcock. A motion prevailed to allow the Logan delegation to poll the full vote to which it was entitled, 23.

W. H. Linn and R. F. Kincaid, of Macon, acted with John Colvin, N. P. Gasaway and Noah Allison, of Logan, as a committee on permanent organization. This committee reported R. T. Williams for permanent chairman. The temporary secretaries were made permanent. The convention then adjourned to 1 p. m. The Macon delegates went into causus, while those from Logan made a solid assault on Charley Laux's dining room.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Macon delegates remained in caucus until 1 o'clock, and of course they had to have some more time for dinner. As a result the convention was not called to order until a half hour later. The convention at once went into executive session, and so all but delegates had to get out of the room. The reporters, spectators and candidates went into another room, where they were entertained by Jason Roger's queries and philosophical observations upon the probabilities of future events in general Jason staid with the boys all day. There was an immense amount of light showered on him yesterday, and we expect to see him vote the democratic ticket this fall. The executive session was a new wrinkle to him in conventions, and he very industriously inquired its meaning. After a while some one suggested that it was done to give him a chance to make a speech Jason could not regularly get the floor in the convention proper, but recognition was his for the asking outside in the lobby that waited on the executive session. Some one complained for John Lindsay that it was the first time he was ever fired out of a convention But as the Executive Committee of the State Central committee filed in about this time and sought audience with John, the great agitator soon saw that the whole thing was planned to surprise him with an honor And so all was lovely in the waiting room

How it went in the executive session, is something that can be told only at second hand. Three or four of the delegates were pounced upon by the reporters for information. Their story was that "there was nothing done" The proceedings that followed showed, however, that in that executive session it was agreed to let Macon have the Senator and a Representative, Logan taking a Representative. The state central committee men paid a visit to the secret session after their consultation with John Lindsay What report resulted from all this, can not be told. It was the old story upon inquiry, "nothing was said."

SENATOR

As soon as the doors were thrown open the convention proceeded to the nomination of a Senator. D. C. Myers nominated Herman Manecke "A man known throughout the county, one who did good work on the Board of Supervisors for years, a farmer, the friend of all laboring people, one who had always watched the interests over which he was put guard, a man who had already made a record as a champion of an honest and economical use of the people's funds."

W H Linn presented the name of Brad Durfee as a man who is known throughout the district for his ability and sterling democracy. Durfee's nomination was seconded by Ed Lynch in a neat eulogistic speech A. G. Webber put Hon Robert Hill in nomination. Ed Lynch moved that the counties be called, and the chairman announce the vote Also that Macon be called first on the Senatorial nominations This was carried. The nomination went to Herman Manecke on the first ballot The vote in Macon was: Manecke 15, Durfee 6 Hill 6. Logan's vote was: Manecke 15, Durfee 5 Hill 3 On motion of A G Webber the nomination was made unanimous.

REPRESENTATIVES.

Wash Smith was put in nomination by R. T Williams, who said "There is a tide in the affairs of parties, as well as men, which taken at the flood leads on to fortune And such a time is now upon us, and I name a man who will lead us on to victory. I knew his grandfather and grandmother, and I have known him since he was a boy and in every relation of life He has always been an adversary brave and chivalrous He has led the democratic party in his township to repeated victory in spite of the determined opposition of an adverse party that was in a majority "

David Patterson was put in nomination by A G. Webber, and then the roll was called. Macon voted 22 for Smith and 4 for Patterson Logan's 23 votes were cast for Smith. The nomination was made unanimous upon motion of R Brownlee.

Col Ed Lynch put in nomination Lawrence B. Stringer, of Lincoln Mr Lynch said "The man I nominate is not a farmer, I don't know that he was ever one. I was on a farm in my young days and I am always thankful that I got away. He belongs to a labor organization, as do all men who work He is not an F M. B A. because that order admits none but farmers. But the man I nominate belongs to an organization that includes all working men and classes seeking redress, and relief from the unjust burdens that weigh upon them, the democratic party. We had no candidate for Senator before this convention because our boy was not old enough. Had he been, we would gladly have pitted Logan brains against Millikin's barrel, yes and the barrel would have gone down. We first knew this young man in the university at Lincoln. He cast his first vote with the democratic party. There is only one place for us to-day, and we have but one man for one place If we had been given two candidates on the ticket, we would have any number of men for the second place But when there is only one place every democrat in Logan county points to Lawrence B Stringer as the one who shall have it. He is the choice of our farmers, of our laboring people, he is the unanimous choice of Logan county You have nominated Mr Smith in Macon county, and you tell us he is a good man and that he will be elected. I trust to your wisdom, but I can also assure you that Mr Smith will have Lawrence B Stringer for company at Springfield next winter. I congratulate this convention on the work it has done There is no strife here. And when you read the news on the morning after election you will know that Logan has done its duty I present the name of the man who can get more votes than any other man in Logan county, Lawrence B. Stringer.

This nomination was carried by acclamation, and Mr. Stringer was loudly called for. He came forward and and made a good talk in the very few minutes that were allowed him before train time. He said "I have no apology to make for being a young man. I feel that if Illinois is to be rescued from the high tax oligarchy that now holds it, the work must be largely done by young men. States have been admitted into the Union that have not the population of this Congressional District. This was done to pack the Senate against the people I recognize that we must make the race against the influence of money furnished by C. B. Farwell. But the people will make the race, and they will win.

NEW SENATORIAL COMMITTEE.

Ed Lynch moved that Macon select two men and Logan two for the Senatorial committee that will act for the next two years. This was carried. C. M. Barnett and A. G Webber will represent Macon on the committee. L. B. Stringer and John Colvin will act for Logan.

PURE ELECTIONS.

As soon as this work was done most of the Logan delegates had to hurry out of the hall to catch their train. More than a quorum yet remained to finish up business. The following resolution was offered by A. G. Webber and adopted:

WHEREAS, It has been publicly charged, and there is strong reason for believing that in past elections in this Senatorial District elections have been controlled by the illegal use of money, thus stultifying the voice of the people—and whereas upon a free, untrammeled and unbought ballot depends the unimpaired rights of citizenship and the permanence of free institutions, therefore

Resolved, That the representatives of the democracy of Logan and Macon counties in convention assembled recommend to the central committees of both counties to take such steps as may be deemed necessary to prevent the improper and illegal use of money in the coming elections, and that we urge that an organization be perfected and a fund be raised for the detection and prosecution of all who give or take bribes at the coming election.

Ed Lynch remarked that they had a committee in Logan that took care of that matter some time ago. That committee was a grand jury that indicted a whole batch of vote sellers. These were afterwards convicted, and disfranchised for five years. There will be no buying or selling of votes in Logan county this year.

BRAD DURFEE

was called upon for a speech He came forward and said he would make only a few remarks He said "I have never seen a better set of delegates than those here today. And I have never seen a better ticket than the one selected The delegates could not have made a stronger ticket had they taken weeks for deliberation. There is no better man than Mr. Manecke in Macon county. He has made a stand in favor of honest goverment, and the people will uphold his hands. The institutions of the state go to the Legislature and ask for more money than they need You want a man who will give them what money they need, but not one dollar to be used for campaign purposes. That man is Herman Manecke."

ED LYNCH

had to make another speech to please the crowd. He expressed himself as more than pleased with the work done by the convention. He said "This district is democratic and let us do everything in our power to redeem it from republican rule this fall" Ed told of the time Logan was a strong republican county, and when the gerrymanderers used it to beat a democratic county on a legislative ticket They have changed all that, and now it is the fashion to put Logan in with one that is republican "If you do your duty in Macon this fall it will be necessary to tack this county on to one that is republican, and where will they find it hereabouts?"

Upon motion the convention adjourned The nominees were congratulated, and they at once started out to do hard work. You will hear from them in style at the close of election day.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers of the California Fig Syrup company.

Warrensburg.

Charles Childs left here last Sunday night for Chicago, where he will attend Rush Medical college.

Mrs. Parker, who has been visiting her parents in Parkersburg for the past two months, has returned home.

Mrs. William Ritchie, who has been visiting relatives out west for the last three months, returned home last Friday.

Miss Fannie Miller, who has been visiting friends in Indian Territory for the last two months, returned home last Thursday.

Mrs. William Cressler gave a reception last Thursday evening in honor of her sister, Mrs. Henry Harpstrite, who is visiting relatives here.

BURGLARY.

A number of residences in Warrensburg were entered by burglars Sunday night. They entered the residence of Martin Albert by opening a window, and secured 10 or 12 dollars in money, and some clothing. In entering Joseph Ritchie's house they went in at the door and secured $3.50 and carried away more clothing. Other houses were visited but it is not known how much was taken.

Oct. 13.

To Move Their Shops.

The Illinois Central railroad company has purchased forty acres in Dauphin Park, Chicago, paying for the same about $100,000. Parties who claim to be on the inside of the company's affairs state that it is the intention of the road officials to move the shops now situated near Fourteenth street, Chicago, to their newly-purchased tract of land. Whether the move, if it is made, will affect the Clinton boom, is not known. It is quite certain that whatever Clinton gets out of this moving business will not be as great as her people desired.

There is talk of starting a new paper here in the interest of the F. M. B. A. A guarantee of $100 cash is asked by Frank Trainer of the Bethany Echo, who will publish it.

COLT SHOW.

There was a colt show here Saturday at Lowe's livery stable in which James Drew took first, Joseph Baker, second, and Charles Shuman, third. The colts were sired by an imported draft horse owned by W. K. Baker, of this county.

TROUBLE IN F. M. B. A.

Levi Seass, candidate on the F. M. B. A. ticket for the legislature in this district created quite a dissension in the ranks of that organization by delivering a republican speech at the Reedy school house. He was formerly a rabid republican. A Mr. Carter who was in the house at the time, denounced him in straightforward language and called for a division of the house, which resulted in his receiving a pretty severe set back.

OTHER ITEMS.

John Patterson, of Argenta, is visiting relatives and friends here.

S. Sweeney has the contract for digging the trench, to put in the new water mains.

The money is about made up for the new railroad, only a few hundred dollars being lacking.

James Dedman, James Livers, C. Lane and Will Hancock returned from their hunting trip in the west last Friday. They report a good time.

Oct. 13.

Church Services Sunday.

"I'll tell you what," said a good Presbyterian yesterday who had been to hear Rev. James Miller's sermon Sunday night on "The Genesis of Man," "that sermon ought to be preserved. It was one of the kind where the congregation was sorry to see the preacher stop. Here the sermons of Talmage are scattered all over the United States and none are better than that one. It was characterized by fine thought and modern ideas."

Rev. Charles E. Torrey preached an able and interesting discourse on Sunday morning, the subject being "A Christian in Business." The house was nearly filled, being the largest congregation since Dr. Vosburgh left the city. The whole audience was deeply impressed with the earnest eloquence of the pastor. Mr. Torrey is evidently an able pulpit orator. In the evening the attendance was large again and at the close an after service of deep interest was held in the chapel. The church is well pleased with the new pastor.

Backed Down

The case against William Schierman and John Haffe, for conspiracy, is ended in a way that perfectly vindicates them. They are two of the iron moulders who formerly were employed by the Loeb foundry, and the warrants against them were sworn out last Thursday by Harry L. Mathews, the secretary and treasurer of that company. They were placed in jail that night, and afterwards gave bond of $300 each, to appear for trial before Justice Curtis yesterday afternoon. Evidently the ones who were trying to sustain the charge saw that it would be impossible, for the case was dismissed yesterday and on that side at least all is serene again so far as any conspiracy is concerned. It looks like a complete back down from any charge against the moulders.

It is said that the strike is about to win and the moulders be taken back on the old scale, but there is no certainty of this yet.

Fun To-Night.

The Henry Burlesque company will give a performance to-night that is spoken of well by all exchanges. The Louisville Courier-Journal describes it thus:

"The opening act, the 'Art Reception,' was gorgeous and voluptuous. In it, all the members of the company appear, and the specialties given were unusually good. The well-known minstrel men, McIntyre and Heath, were the comedians, and their jokes were bright and taking. Miss Nettie Van Bleg and Miss Helen Courtland made hits by their singing. The 'Mystifying Crowley,' who looks and sings like a woman, but is a man, was highly applauded. The juggling act of Eldora was really wonderful. This ordinarily uninteresting performance he makes attractive by his great superiority. The performance closed with a funny travesty on 'The Gondoliers.'"

Deaths.

Fay Sine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sine, died at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the home of her parents, 716 East Whitmer street. She was aged 3 months and 19 days, and had been sick for one day with brain fever. The funeral will be from the family residence to-day at 4 o'clock.

The funeral of Miss Lida Stewart, who died of tyyhoid fever at her home in Long Creek township, Saturday, was held Sunday, conducted by Rev. Gay. She was 19 years of age.

Otto, the infant son of Conrad Krentel will be buried to-day. He died Saturday of scarlet fever, at the home of his parents, at 517 North Mercer street.

Lacking in Cars.

The railroads are complaining of a lack of cars in almost every line of traffic. The eastern roads are demanding the cars in which they hauled their coal supply to the west. The roads in the northwest are complaining that they cannot receive a sufficient number of cars into which to load the harvests. The local agents crowd their customers as much as possible and will not under any consideration allow a car to remain upon a spur track any length of time. The transfer business is good and all the trains are heavily loaded. Many wild trains have to be made up to accommodate the rush.

Death of Mrs. Malloy.

Mrs. Henry Malloy died at her home, 514 East North street, Sunday morning at 10:35. She was born in County Clare, Ireland, 55 years ago, and came to this country in 1852 living first at Alton. She lived there for 35 years and then moved to Decatur two years ago. Her husband, Henry Malloy, survives her, as do also her six sons, Edward, David, Henry, James, John and William, all of whom are more than 20 years of age. The remains have been taken to Alton for interment.

Marriage Licenses.

TO THE WIFE---OF HER HOME.

Mid pleasures and palaces wherever we roam,
Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home!
A charm nestles there for each tired, weary man,
If the furniture is bought on the easy payment plan
Of Scovill, Scovill—that's the place to buy,
Where you are always sure that the price is not high.

Now, if John Howard Payne lived in this age and day,
He would not have, homeless, kept wand'ring alway;
For straightway to Scovill's you'd see he would hie,
And all household goods he would easily buy
Of Scovill, Scovill, whose wide open door
Makes possible the purchase to rich and to poor.

Attractive and pleasant should home be to man,
We've shown you the way in the easy payment plan.
Your husband will say that beneath Heaven's dome,
Indeed and in truth there is no place like home.

A REPRIEVE IS CERTAIN

Holden and Dunham's Case Presented to the Governor.

NEW AND IMPORTANT EVIDENCE.

Judge Vail and Prosecuting Attorney Hicks Join with the Defense in Asking for a Reprieve Till After the February Term--Many Affidavits Going to Show That the Two Men are Innocent--Substance of the Petition--Facts Coming Out Every Day--Decision Withheld.

The case of Albert Dunham and Calvin Holden, tried at Monticello and sentenced to death, has excited much interest in Decatur. Owing to various sensational features it has been the absorbing topic in Piatt county, where public sentiment has almost, up to the present time, been against the two men. Now evidence has come to light, which is not yet known publicly, that must produce an entire change of feeling, and cannot help but secure for them a reprieve until after the February term of court at Monticello. It is almost certain that the execution set for next Friday, will not take place. It looks now as if it could never take place.

New facts in the favor of Holden and Dunham, have been coming to light every day for the last week. Since the new evidence was discovered, the greatest exertions have been made by C. F. Mansfield, attorney for the defense, to get the facts before the governor in time for a reprieve, that he might save the life of Holden and Dunham. Miss Polly Vail has been working day and night to transcribe the evidence. She did not get it finished until Sunday, a short time before it was delivered to Attorney Mansfield at the train here on his way to Springfield.

Mr. Mansfield was accompanied by States Attorney Hicks. They went before the governor yesterday, and Mr. Mansfield presented a petition for a reprieve. It was accompanied by affidavits of various persons.

THE PETITION

recited a history of the case from the time of the arrest to the end of the trial. Each petitioner asserted his innocence and set forth that his pecuniary condition prevented him from tendering to the court a bill of exceptions. It has only been by money contributed by the public since the new evidence came to light that a copy of the record of the trial has been procured for presentation to the governor. The petitioners asked in the light of the new evidence, in view of the fact that they had no money to ferret out the guilty parties, and in the name of common justice and humanity, that the governor grant a reprieve till next March.

THE GOVERNOR

gave the closest attention to what the attorneys said. He discussed the case in almost every phase, and all he said showed that he was interested in the case and would give it his most careful consideration. He said he would look over the affidavits at the earliest possible moment and let those interested in the case know what his decision will be.

Mr. Mansfield presented the case for the defense. States Attorney Hicks was present of his own account to ask that the reprieve be granted. He said the people would lose no rights by doing so and that this was a matter which should be more fully investigated at the next term of court.

A letter from Judge Vail was also presented. He said no harm could be done by granting the reprieve and he recommended it. The new evidence should be investigated. Nobody wants innocent men hung. He did not believe that public justice required that these men be hurried to their death. This is an unusual case. Whenever any action was to be taken asking for a commutation of the sentence or a pardon, the judge and state's attorney would submit to the governor other matter, but now they could not oppose the granting of a reprieve.

Among the several affidavits accompaning the petition was one by Mrs. Holden, in which she made the confession already printed here, and swore to it. Sheriff Miller made affidavit that from her manner he believed she swore to the truth.

Another affidavit was by W. E. Lodge, a member of the Piatt county bar, and owner of the farm that had been leased by the Holdens, and was afterwards rented to Harley Russel. Mr. Lodge said he was well acquainted with both Russel and the Holdens. During the fall of 1889 and the spring of 1890 he had had many conversations with Russel, growing out of the change of the tenancy from the Holdens to Russel and that in those conversations Russel had often used the word Cal and said Cal Holden, when Mr. Lodge knew he could not have meant Cal, and must have meant Ed. In short, Mr. Lodge stated at length and gave many instances proving that Harley Russel knew Ed Holden as Cal, and Cal Holden as Ed.

There was an affidavit by Mrs. Lodge going to show that Russel had spoken to her about Cal Holden's doing what she positively knew Cal could not have done, but that his brother Ed might have done.

This evidence is all given at length in the affidavit. It is important because Russel in his dying statement said that Cal Holden was the man that shot him. These facts have only come to the attorney for the defense since the trial.

Another affidavit is by Mrs. Elizabeth Brady, of Monticello. She lives near Mr. Minch, who owns the house in which the Holdens live, in another part of town. On Saturday morning, two weeks before the murder, Mrs. Holden was at Minch's house. As she passed the Brady residence, Mrs. Brady looked out of the window and saw Mrs. Holden. After some conversation Mrs. Holden was invited in and she went in and sat down. Then a conversation about as follows occurred.

Mrs. Holden—How do you like living in town?

Mrs. Brady—Better than living in the country.

Mrs. H.—I like the country. Give me the country every time.

Mrs. B.—That's so, you did live in the country.

Mrs. H.—And we would have been living there yet if it hadn't been for that onary Harley Russel and Frank Craig undermining us and lying about us and telling Ed Lodge that we were a set of thieves, and everything mean.

Mrs. B.—That is very aggravating.

Mrs. H.—Aggravating! Nothing! It was a dirty, mean, low-lived trick! He'll never gain anything by it. He'll never get a crop off that ground. Last spring he met Ed in the road and jerked him off a wagon and cursed him. Ed has been laying for him ever since and he'll show him who he's lording it over. I can brag on Ed. He's more like me than all the others. When any one injures me my blood never cools till I get revenge. Nothing on earth is sweeter to me than that. I will have revenge, and if Ed don't get that Russel, I will, and I am the very one that can do it.

Mrs. Brady said Mrs. Holden talked as fast as she could, gradually getting louder and more excited, till at the last she was almost frantic, raging around the room like one distracted almost with hate and malice. Mrs. Brady swore further that this information was not given to the attorney for the defense till the 10th of October, when she told Mr. Mansfield. She didn't give it before, because she was afraid of Mrs. Holden and afraid to get into court. Now that Mrs. Holden is safe away she does not fear her. She was in court when the prisoners were sentenced. She felt then that she must go up and tell Judge Vail, but her baby was asleep in her arms, all the lawyers and officers were strange to her, and she feared to do so. She cried all the way home though, and has felt that the lives of the two men might be resting on her soul.

An affidavit by Mrs. Miller, wife of the sheriff, speaks of the gentle and quiet conduct of Cal Holden while in jail. He didn't manifest the least sign of guilt. Once when the prisoners were making arrangements to break out, he told the sheriff. Ed was different. Mrs. Holden was different, too, and at the mention of Russel's name, would get in a passion, and rage around. Mrs. Miller went to the depot to see the mother and son off to Joliet. There Mrs. Holden called her over and made a partial confession, which was not to be made public until they were far away. Mrs. Holden said then that it was Ed and she who killed Russel and that Cal and Bert were sound asleep. She did not confess before because she was afraid for herself.

Sheriff Miller made an affidavit in which he tells of the arrest. He found Cal and Albert undressed, in bed, and sound asleep. They were greatly surprised and protested innocence. Holden was on the floor with his pants on. While Cal and Dunham have been in jail the sheriff has seen nothing to make him think they were guilty, but on the contrary. It was the other way in the case of Mrs. Holden and Ed. They had made many breaks that led him to think they were the guilty ones.

Continuing, Mr. Miller said when Harley Russel was shot, he might easily have been mistaken about its being Cal that shot him. The two brothers are alike in many respects, and it would not have been unlikely that Harley should think it was Cal, when it was in fact Ed. It has since been learned that Ed and his mother both made many threats against Russel. Ed has always been a hard case, quarrelsome and revengeful, while Cal has been quite different. The sheriff further said there was no doubt but that Mrs. Holden and Ed went to Joliet with the greatest relief. They were glad to get away from Monticello.

New evidence in the case is coming to light all the time. Much has transpired that Mr. Mansfield did not have time to lay before the governor. One fact is about the tracks made by the man who shot Russel. They were 10¼ inches long. Cal Holden's shoes are 11¼ inches long. Mrs. Holden and Ed both wore shoes that were about 10¼ inches long.

Mr. Mansfield, the attorney for the defense, was in Decatur last night and it was from him these facts were obtained. He has been working on this case without hope of recompense, and has besides spent nearly $100 of his own money.

REV. TRUEBLOOD'S FAREWELL.

He Will Leave To-morrow for His New Charge at Kearney, Neb.

Rev. H. W. Trueblood, who is well and favorably known in Decatur and elsewhere as a prominent and able minister of the United Brethren church, has accepted a call to a church of that denomination at Kearney, Neb., and with his family will leave for that city at noon to-morrow.

Mr. Trueblood has lived in Decatur for nine years, the first three years as pastor of the Decatur church, then four years as presiding elder, and since then while in charge of the Argenta church he has made his home here.

Last Sunday night a special service was held at the U. B. church as a farewell to him. The church was crowded. Rev. J. A. F. King preached, his text being "The Time is Short." After this sermon Rev. King conducted a sacramental service, the largest number of persons partaking that have ever done so since the church was built. After that while Rev. Trueblood and his wife stood at the altar all the congregation came to bid them farewell, and many kind words were said and tears shed at the thought of separation from one who had been so dear to them. They all commend him to the new friends he will make in Nebraska.

Harry Pitts' Case.

Circuit court did not meet until after 3 o'clock yesterday, although it had been adjourned until 1 o'clock. The delay was because Judge Vail had been to Tuscola in the morning on court business. The afternoon's session was occupied with more testimony in the case against Harry Pitts for horsestealing. Detective Lloyd, chief of the private agency in Indianapolis, was put on the stand, and as was promised there was interesting fun for the spectators. He was one of the witnesses for the prosecution and Attorney Bailey, of Indianapolis, who undertook the cross-examination for the defense, started in to bore holes all through his personal record. The questions on that line were all objected to by Prosecuting Attorney Mills, and the objections sustained by Judge Vail, so the answers did not get to the jury. Mr. Sutton, the iceman for whom Pitts worked in Indianapolis, was on the stand as a witness for the prosecution, and testified that Pitts worked for him in the year of '84-85 instead of '85-86 when the defense witnesses claimed he had. Sutter had receipts and pay rolls to show it, and that is a hard hit at the alibi proof.

Some of Lewis' testimony was contradicted. He had sworn that Pitts came to Decatur from Danville in 1886 with Charles Goebler, while the latter who has lived here until a few months ago, testified that he had never seen Pitts before. The case may go to the jury this afternoon.

Five Runaways At Once.

Just after the funeral of Mrs. Nelson at Illiopolis Sunday, the team of Hugh Irvin ran away. That frightened other teams, until four others are known to have run away, and it is reported that there were nine in all. Two or three wagons were demolished. Tom Wright's folks were thrown out and badly hurt. Green Simpson had an arm broken and a little girl with him was knocked senseless, as was also Mrs. Wright, who was not expected late Sunday night to recover.

Division Superintendent E. A. Gould was in Decatur yesterday.

THEY ARE NOT NERVOUS

A Letter From Dunham and Holden, in the Piatt Jail

Last week's Monticello Bulletin had an item which stated that the two condemned men in the Piatt county jail were were getting nervous. This they deny in the letter below, which was written by one of the other prisoners in the jail, at the request of the two men. They at first intended to sign their names, but concluded to send it as written by an inmate of the jail:

MONTICELLO, Oct. 13, 1890.

Editor Decatur Review:

DEAR SIR—In reply to the piece published in the Monticello Bulletin in regard to the two condemned men that the Bulletin said were getting nervous as the time was getting short for them to live comfortably, I will say it does not seem as though they are getting very nervous, when one of the inmates of the jail (Samuel Rhoads) sat down in a chair and let Dunham shave him on Sunday, Oct. 12, 1890. This is since the Bulletin was printed. Also he shaved himself and another prisoner. The two boys are in good spirits and show no signs of nervousness in the least. They also still claim they are innocent men and are prepared to die. I think the Bulletin had better visit the jail and see where he has made his mistake. I think for my part the two condemned men have a better nerve than the editor. He has not been in the jail since the trial, how can he tell. The two men say the sheriff had better get a padlock for the Bulletin's mouth, as he seems to be worrying more about the scaffold than they are, and I think so myself.

AN INMATE OF THE JAIL.

The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Henry Paniwell, of Decatur, Oct. 15, at 1 o'clock p. m.

Spoiled Potatoes.

At a number of cities of central Illinois there are complaints of spoiled and decaying potatoes being shipped from the east. These potatoes have been dug too early and the skin easily slips off. They decay quickly and are unfit for food. A car load was shipped into a neighboring city last week which were so decayed that the railroad company had to put two barrels of lime on them to kill the awful stench before the men could unload them. It is hoped that no potatoes of this kind find their way to Decatur.

S.S.S.

Mrs. Geo. F. Smoote, a highly cultivated and estimable lady of Prescott, Ark., writes under date of April 23,'89: "During the summer of 1887, my eyes became inflamed, and my stomach and liver hopelessly disordered. Nothing I ate agreed with me. I took chronic diarrhoea, and for some time my life was despaired of by my family. The leading physicians of the country were consulted, but the medicines administered by them never did me any permanent good, and I lingered between life and death, the latter being preferable to the agonies I was enduring. S.), a few bottles of which made me permently well—well from then until now."
